(a) To conduct manufacturing and related operations;

(b) To enter into any lawful arrangement for sharing profits, union of interest, reciprocal association or cooperative association with any corporation, association, partnership, individual, or other legal entity for the carrying on of any business, or to enter into any general or limited partnership for the carrying on of any business;

(c) To engage in such other business operations and investments as are deemed prudent;

(d) To conduct business anywhere in the world; and

(e) To otherwise serve the convenience of the shareholders of the Corporation in carrying out and engaging in the above described purposes of the Corporation;

In pursuit of these purposes, the Corporation will have all the powers granted to it by law.

ARTICLE IV.

CAPITAL STOCK

4.01. The aggregate number of shares which the Corporation shall be authorized to issue shall be 50,000 shares. All of the authorized shares of the Corporation shall be common stock having a par value of $1.00 per share and designated as "Common Stock".

ARTICLE V.

PREFERENCES, LIMITATIONS, AND RELATIVE RIGHTS

The limitations and relative rights in respect to the shares of each class are as follows:

5.01. Common Stock. The common stock shall have the limitations and relative rights as hereinafter provided:

(a) Issuance. When payment for the consideration for which the shares are to be issued shall have been received by the corporation, such shares shall be deemed to be fully paid and the holder thereof shall not be liable for any call. The shares will then be non-assessable.

(b) Voting. The holders of the common shares shall be entitled to elect the Board of Directors and shall otherwise have unlimited voting rights. Voting shall be on a one (1) vote per share basis.

In voting for the election of directors, cumulative voting is permitted, and each shareholder may accumulate his votes by giving one candidate as many votes as the number of such directors multiplied by the number of his shares shall equal, or by distributing such votes on the same principle among any number of such candidates.

5.02. Dividends. The record holders of the common shares shall share pro rata in all dividends declared by the Board of Directors; provided always, the Board of Directors may elect in its discretion not to declare dividends. Dividends will not accumulate. The record of shareholders entitled to receive a dividend will be taken at the close of business on December 31 (or if such date is not a business day, on the last prior business day).

5.03. Redemption. (a) The common shares may be redeemed, in full or in part, either separately or on a pro rata basis, at the option of the Corporation, by vote of its Board of Directors, or by the operation of the sinking fund or redemption or purchase account, if any, provided for such stock, at any time, or from time to time, at a redemption price equal to the then fair market value of such shares. If less than all of the outstanding shares of a class of stock are to be redeemed, the shares to be redeemed shall be determined in any such manner as the Board of Directors may prescribe. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to limit or impair the right of the corporation to buy any shares of any class of stock at a price not exceeding the price which would be payable if such stock were then called for redemption.

(b) Notice. Notice of every redemption of stock shall be mailed by or on behalf of the corporation, addressed to the holders of record of the stock to be redeemed at their respective addresses as they shall appear on the records of the Corporation, such mailing to be at least thirty (30) and not more than sixty (60) days prior to the date fixed for redemption.

(c) Notice of Adverse Claim. No payment will be made if there is any legend or notation on the certificate, representing the shares to be redeemed, evidencing any adverse claim or other interest of any other person; nor shall any payment be made if the bank or other trust company making such payment has notice of a claim or interest of any other person, unless and until that other person has disclaimed the same.
