...to further the education of equine health and safety.... During equine events we incorporate the help from local veterinarians and equine product manufacturers to educate the public on today's best practices for better animal health and nutrition.

...while preserving our western heritage and history.... By actions we wish to demonstrate the legendary proceedings of the men and women, unafraid of hard work, who founded the west and the lifestyle that gave them the courage it took to endure its hardships and lead them to a better life.

...by means of promoting equine events incorporating the youth and community.... "Legends in the Making" was created to teach the youth the benefits of hard work and social bonding. Through the horse events we are able to bring the community together, in a barn-building way, to stimulate the growth of our youth and their fresh, new ideas, to better the community as a whole.
