To Whom This Might Concern,

I am the State Secretary for the Idaho Women for Agriculture. Kathleen Hardcastle, an attorney in Moscow, called your office on January 11, 1991 to ask if the Idaho Women for Agriculture was registered in your office and if they were in good standing. She was told the IWA was registered and in good standing.

Ms. Hardcastle told me the contact person on your records is Betty Turner. Betty Turner was our President of I.W.A. She resigned, but is still a member. Ms. Hardcastle advised me when I went to the State IWA meeting in Boise on January 25, 1991 to ask someone would receive the annual papers from your office, fill them out and return them to your office to keep our organization registered as a non profit organization. No one volunteered so I said I would receive the papers. My name is Delores G. Heimgartner
