(7) Any other rights, preferences and limitations of that series that are permitted by law to vary.

D. Mandatory Conversion of Preferred Stock. Each outstanding share of Preferred Stock of the Corporation shall be converted automatically into validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable whole shares of Common Stock of the Corporation, on a one-for-one basis, upon the closing of (A) the sale, lease or other disposition by the Corporation of all or substantially all of its assets, or (B) the acquisition of the Corporation by another entity by stock purchase, consolidation, merger or other reorganization in which the holders of the Corporation's outstanding voting stock immediately prior to such transaction own, immediately after such transaction, securities representing less than fifty percent (50%) of the voting power of the entity surviving such transaction. The Corporation shall pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by any such current or former director or officer in any such proceeding in advance of the final disposition of the proceeding if the person sets forth in writing (i) the person's good faith belief that the person is entitled to indemnification under this Article and (ii) the person's agreement to repay all advances if it is ultimately determined that the person is not entitled to indemnification under this Article. No amendment to this Article that limits the Corporation's obligation to indemnify any person shall have any effect on such obligation for any act or omission that occurs prior to the later of the effective date of the amendment or the date notice of the amendment is given to the person. This Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other provisions for indemnification or advancement of expenses of directors, officers, employees, agents and fiduci-
