ARTICLE V

The purposes for which this corporation is formed are as follows:

(1) To foster, promote and increase the knowledge and appreciation of the public, governmental entities, business and other economically interested entities in the proper and equitable use of the natural resources in the western states of the United States of America, with balanced consideration given to the environmental, economic, historic, national, strategic, and aesthetic needs and values involved in the use and conservation of such natural resources.

(2) To preserve, maintain and enhance the rights of users of said natural resources within the purposes of this corporation.

(3) To preserve, establish, foster, and enhance the rights and authority of the several western states to greater ownership and control over land and resources presently under the control of the federal government of the United States.

(4) To undertake and engage in litigation to preserve and enhance such proper, balanced use and conservation of said natural resources.

(5) To assist members of the general public, governmental entities, businesses, and other organizations in providing legal representation on matters of public interest with regard to the proper, balanced used and conservation of said resources.

(6) To engage in legal research, study and analysis for the benefit of the general public, governmental entities, and users of said natural resources as to the effect of evolving concepts of the law with respect to use and conservation of such natural resources.

(7) To foster and encourage research and study regarding such proper and equitable use of said natural resources.

(8) To undertake and participate in educational activities related to the foregoing purposes of this corporation.

(9) To conduct and sponsor forums, lectures, debates, and similar programs related to the foregoing purposes of this corporation to preserve and enhance the proper, balanced use and conservation of said natural resources against unwarranted governmental intrusion and over-regulation by means of litigation, educational activities, and use of the political process.

(10) The organization is exclusively in the public interest and to promote social welfare by mobilizing and educating the public about the goals and interests of the corporation. To achieve these objectives, the corporation shall conduct conferences, seminars, and other public educational events from time to time, at which meetings the general public and representative governments may meet in a body for exclusive review of the matter; to report and disseminate results of its resolutions, studies, and conferences for educational purposes, and promote and develop cooperation among similar organizations, all to the end that the general public may play a more enlightened role in the decision-making process now before the government as it pertains to the goals of the corporation.

ARTICLE VI

Organized for the aforestated purposes, and operating without a profit, this corporation shall have and exercise any and all powers and privileges now or hereafter conferred by the laws of the State of Idaho upon non-profit corporations formed under Chapter 3, Title 30, of the Idaho Code; provided, however, in all events and under all circumstances and notwithstanding merger, consolidation, reorganization, termination, dissolution, winding up of this corporation, voluntarily or involuntarily or by operation of law, or upon amendment of the Articles of Incorporation:

(a) this corporation shall not have or exercise any power or authority either expressly, by interpretation, or by operation of law, nor shall it directly or indirectly engage in any activity that would prevent it from qualifying as a non-profit organization in a manner to receive tax exempt status under Section 501 (c)(4), of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended;

(b) no part of the net earnings of the corporation shall inure to the benefit of any member, director, trustee or officer, or any private individual, of the corporation except as is necessary for reasonable remuneration for services performed, and the corporation shall not engage in any partisan or political activities or be in any political campaigns or in opposition to any candidate for a political office.

(c) the corporation shall not apply accumulation of income in any manner which may subject it to the denial of exemption as provided in Section 504 of the Internal Revenue Code as now enacted or as it may hereafter be amended.

ARTICLE VII

This corporation shall have seven classes of members: (a) Individuals, (b) Family, (c) Small Business, (d) Associations, (e) Contributing, (f) Sustaining, and (g) Patron. The rights and privileges of membership of each class shall be set forth in the bylaws. The corporation may issue certificates or cards of membership; however, evidence of membership shall be established by a membership roster maintained by the corporation.

The qualifications of membership, the terms and conditions of admission to membership, and the time, mode, conditions and effect of admission, expulsion, withdrawal from, and restoration to membership shall be as provided for in the bylaws.

ARTICLE XII

Upon the dissolution of the corporation, the board of directors shall, after paying or making provision for the payment of all the liabilities of the corporation, dispose of all of the assets of the corporation exclusively for the purposes of the corporation in such manner, or distribute the same to similar 501(c)(4) non-profit organization or organizations, as the board of directors shall determine.
