Programs held on the University of Idaho Campus:

Many of the alumni association programs are held on the UI campus. These are intended to bring alumni, parents and other friends of the university back to the UI for fellowship and to build support. Many of these programs are also intended to support students in their educational adventure.

1998-99 Student Alumni Relations Board:

The University of Idaho Student Alumni Relations Board (SArb) was originally formed to encourage students to have a positive and full university experience, to increase awareness of the Alumni Association among students and to provide leadership and networking opportunities between students and alumni. SArb has developed into an organization that serves as a liaison between students, alumni, parents and the university. For 1999 the officers of SArb are: Kacie Baldwin (spring) and Josh Taff (fall), president; Jennifer Brun, vice president; A.J. Gray, secretary; Gina Hulsizer, treasurer; Tera Chase, internal public relations; and Megan Anderson, external public relations.

SArb is responsible for coordinating and promoting major campus activities through committees such as: New Student Traditions Night, Dads' Weekend, Homecoming Bonfire, Homecoming Royalty, Homecoming Breakfast, Moms' Weekend Breakfast, Moscow Silver and Gold, Senior Send Off, finals kits, community service, and hosting for Alumni, Foundation, and President's Office events.

SArb sells Finals Kits to parents. These are delivered to students during finals week each semester. This spring SArb made the kits from scratch. They were able to lower prices and provide a higher quality product. Five hundred kits were ordered in the fall and 450 this spring.

The 1999 Student Alumni Association/Student Foundation Network District VIII conference was held in Seattle this year. Eight students and adviser Tim Helmke attended the conference. They brought home four awards: Dads' Weekend as program of the year, Clint Gunter as student member of the year, Tim Helmke as adviser of the year, and SArb as member organization of the year.

Events for the Support of Students and Their Parents:

New Student Traditions Night was to be held at the president's home this fall, but rain moved the event to the Student Union Building. Administrators, staff and faculty served the barbecue to welcome new students to the University of Idaho. Over 950 new students attended.

SArb sponsored many events for Dads' Weekend 1998. This event includes a breakfast, golf tournament, and barbecue lunch. Over 300 dad's registered for these events.

The annual Awards for Excellence banquet is held each fall to honor 40 senior scholars for their academic and extracurricular achievements. The banquet, held in December, also honored 40 faculty members who were selected by the senior scholars as most inspirational to the educational experience.

For Moms' weekend, the UI Parents Association and SArb sponsored a breakfast. This event featured the UI Jazz Choir I, talks from President Bob Hoover and ASUI President Mahmood Sheikh, and the awarding of Mom of the Year by Jeanne Hoover. The Jim and Doris Lyle Scholarships were awarded to SARb members Janelle Baillie and Ericka Medallen. Over 450 people attended this year's event.

To help begin the alumni traditions for our senior students, a Senior Send Off event was held in May. Approximately 150 students attended this year's event.

The annual Commencement Banquet was held to pay tribute to the Honorary Degree recipients, President's Medallion recipients and retiring faculty. The Alumni Association inducted four alumni into the University of Idaho Hall of Fame. Over 180 guests attended the banquet.

Reunions:

The Alumni Association sponsored 9 reunions this year. They included:

- The class of 1959 with 45 class members in attendance;
- The class of 1972, 1973 and 1974 with 15 class members in attendance;
- The classes of 1982, 1983 and 1984 with 20 class members in attendance;
- Student Alumni Relations Board with 30 in attendance;
- 1898ers (former Alumni Association board members) with 25 in attendance;
- Argonaut Centennial with 85 in attendance;
- The class of 1939 with 41 class members in attendance;
- The class of 1949 with 40 class members in attendance; and

Alumni Association Services

Scholarships 1998-99:

The University of Idaho Alumni Association has $700,000 invested with the Consolidated Investment Trust designated for various alumni scholarships. This past year it provided over $31,050 to University of Idaho students for alumni scholarships. Three hundred seventeen students received the $100 alumni scholarship for children of UI alumni.

Affinity Programs:

The Alumni Association continues working with First USA bank to provide University of Idaho banking cards to alumni, parents and other friends of the university. We are in the second year of a five-year contract. Vandal Boosters share in 25 percent of the income from this program.

WorldCom communications company is the affinity telephone program for the Alumni Association. This program has both a calling card with a picture of the Administration Building, residential phone service and a commercial program. Year-to-date income from this program is $3,922.45. Coastal (the provider prior to WorldCom) has brought income year-to-date of $267.78.

Travel Program:

The University of Idaho Alumni Association travel program offered opportunities for educational travel to long-time favorite destinations while traveling in the company of alumni and friends of the university.

Assisting and Promoting the University of Idaho

The University of Idaho Alumni Association provides support to the university in many ways. These efforts include assisting with recruitment of new students, building legislative support for higher education and providing forums for the university to share its message with alumni and other friends.

1999 Top Scholar Program:

The Idaho Top Scholar program, under the corporate sponsorship of U.S. Bank, expanded to a statewide program this year. This program recognizes the top ten percent of Idaho's junior High School class with an awards ceremony and reception. U.S. Bank provided a total of over $50,000 in support of this program this year. More than 1,900 students from 141 high schools were honored in March, April, and May. A staff member, Melinda Becker, a December UI graduate, was hired for four months to coordinate the 26 events this spring. Hugh Cooke, Temple Kinyon and Melinda shared the duties in preparing and producing each event. Harold Gibson, Carmen Savage and Tim Pearson attended several ceremonies serving as university representatives and Master of Ceremonies. More than 50 alumni assist us in hosting the programs by helping with distribution of certificates, distributing programs, serving refreshments, and providing many of our keynote speakers. Special thanks to Elaine Ambrose, John LoBuono, Teresa Fabricius, Pat Chase, and Diane DeChambeau for assisting with the Top Scholar program.

New Student Recruitment Activities:

The Alumni Relations Office and Office of New Student Services have collaborated to create the Alumni Ambassador Network. The purpose of this network is to facilitate personal contacts between alumni, prospective college students and their parents.

In many cases, students decide where to attend college based upon the recommendations of friends, family members, and teachers. Personal contact is a critical element in the decision-making process for many of these students. Alumni are uniquely positioned to connect with local students and share their values for the educational experiences and professional outcomes available through a University of Idaho education.

Alumni can assist in the student recruitment process in many different ways, including:

- host receptions for up to six students and their parents at your home, office, club or other venue attractive to and appropriate for high school students,
- identify prospective students in your area and provide contact information to New Student Services,
- serve as a local contact for the Alumni Association and New Student Services and as a liaison with area school districts,
- invite prospective students to alumni events,
- assist with high school scholarship awards at graduation and other award ceremonies,
- represent the university at college fairs, high school drop-off programs, junior college transfer events and other recruiting activities (especially for those alumni living outside of Idaho), and
- assist with the Vandal Vision program (informational receptions held in January throughout the state and region offering students the opportunity to learn more about the University of Idaho).

The initial implementation of the Ambassador Network occurred this spring with the Alumni Association scheduling five UI Scholars Receptions. The Alumni Office organized receptions for these students, who are academically in the top 1 percent of the nation, in Coeur d'Alene, Moscow, Boise, Twin Falls and Idaho Falls. Alumni served as hosts and opened their homes to the students and their parents. Further, alumni represented the university at college fairs in Seattle, Portland and Washington, D.C.

Alumni Database:

In November of 1998, Kathy Graham, the Alumni Office's Records Manager, accepted a position with SCT Corporation and ended her over-23 years of employment with the university. Kathy's knowledge and genial presence will be deeply missed by the Alumni Office and entire university community.

Irregular help was used to fill-in for Kathy until a permanent replacement was hired. In February of 1999, Judy Tackett was hired as the Technical Records Specialist II for the Alumni Office. Judy joins the office from the Idaho Department of Social and Health Services. She brings an excellent understanding of data management, a breadth of training experience and value for customer service. We are excited to have Judy as a member of the staff.

Judy made the transition into her new position with assistance and training provided by Kathy. The office and university were fortunate that Kathy was available to train Judy on the many complex tasks associated with managing the database and fulfilling the large number of requests from the many constituencies needing information on alumni.

Another change, scheduled to occur later this summer, is the creation of the Advancement Services unit within the Advancement Division. This new unit will be responsible for managing the data contained in the Banner System—the integrated database used by the university and utilized by the other three units of the division (Alumni, Foundation, and Communications/Marketing). Creating this new unit will result in several positions being relocated to the Advancement Services unit. These positions are the Data Entry Specialist, Technical Records Specialist II and a portion of the Program Analyst position. In addition to reporting lines moving from the Alumni Director to the Director for Advancement Service, the salaries of these positions will become a part of the Advancement Services budget. Advancement Services will continue to provide the data reporting services for the university as well as data management. Reorganizing the Advancement Unit in this way will enable it to better meet the increased demand for alumni information.

During the summer, the Alumni Office will work to more fully utilize the web page capacity available through Banner that will facilitate two-way communication with our alumni via the Internet. Some of the new services scheduled for this Fall include registering for events on-line, increased access to the ICAN program for both students and alumni, Skill Search, and volunteer information on the Alumni Ambassador Network.

Legislative Reception:

The Alumni Association sponsored a legislative reception in January at the Statehouse. With assistance from ASUI each college set up a display in the rotunda and a continental breakfast was served on the fourth floor of the capitol building. New alumni director, Harold Gibson, attended this event.

Network Newsletter:

The Alumni Association sponsored the legislative network newsletter. Marty Peterson, special assistant to the president wrote the newsletter and it was distributed to key alumni during the legislative session.

Parents' Association '98-'99

The University of Idaho Parents' Association was formed in 1971 to provide a mechanism for parents of UI students to gain information, provide support to students and the university, and to foster activities that bring parents and students together. The co-presidents for 1998-99 are Karen and John Evans. Hugh Cooke is the Executive Director of the Parents Association. In future years, the Parents' Association wants to promote the theme of "improving the student experience" and work with faculty and administration to assist in the retention of current students.

The Parents' Association hosted a Parents' Forum in April during Moms' Weekend. This gathering is an opportunity to bring staff, faculty and parents together to discuss issues affecting students. A similar meeting will be hosted Dads' Weekend during Fall semester. The association funding is raised through the annual fund drive. UI student callers contact parents each spring to raise donations. The amount raised is placed in the University Consolidated Investment Trust, and this total amount to date is almost $40,000. Interest earned on this trust is used to fund annual Parents' Association Scholarships; this year five students were presented with $500 each in scholarship aid for next semester.

University of Idaho Retirees Association 1998-99

The University of Idaho Retirees Association is a self-governing dues-paying organization. The organization has a membership of 500. They participated in funding the cost of the Latah County Top Scholar program and reception in addition to providing many volunteers for alumni events. The UIRA also hosted the UI Treasures Award Luncheon and provided educational forums, social events and presentations to retirees throughout the year. The group awards an annual scholarship, with the recipient being selected by a UIRA committee. The staff of the Alumni Office assists with all printing, mailing and membership processing projects for UIRA.
